

OCEAN AND COASTAL LAW STATEMENT OF COMPLETION

Second- and third-year students at the School of Law are eligible to begin developing a specialty in the field of ocean and coastal law. An Ocean and Coastal Law Statement of Completion may be obtained by completing one of the following programs:

Course-based Program

1. Students must satisfactorily complete for credit both of the following courses:
 - Coastal Law
 - Ocean Law
2. In addition, students must satisfactorily complete any combination of the following courses and seminars totaling at least nine hours of credit. Note: Under some circumstances, special permission may be obtained from the director of the Ocean and Coastal Law Center to substitute other courses, seminars, moot courts, clinics, and externships in place of those listed below.
 - Climate Change in International Law
 - Climate Change Law and Policy
 - Comparative Environmental Law
 - Energy and the Law
 - Environment and Pollution
 - Environmental Conflict Resolution
 - Environmental Law Alliance Externship
 - Environmental Law Clinic
 - Global Environmental Challenges
 - Hazardous Waste Law
 - Human Rights and Environment
 - Indian Law
 - International Environmental Law
 - International Law
 - Land Use Law
 - Natural Resources Law
 - Public Land Law
 - Renewable Energy Law
 - Water Resources Law
 - Wildlife Law

Research Assistant Program

1. Students must serve as a research assistant with the Ocean and Coastal Law Center for at least one academic year. Students are hired or accepted on a volunteer basis as funding and Center project availability allow.
2. Research assistants seeking the statement of completion also must satisfactorily complete an academic research paper of high professional quality concerning an ocean or coastal law topic. They may fulfill this requirement in conjunction with a course or seminar, through one of the law school's journals or legal writing offerings, or as an independent research project. The paper must be equivalent in depth and quality to the law school's Writing Requirement and may be used to satisfy that requirement as well. The topic must be approved in advance by the director of the Ocean and Coastal Law Center.

Fellowship Program

Students must serve as a marine law or policy fellow in a state or federal fellowship program for at least one semester.

Members of the Ocean and Coastal Law Certification Committee: Richard Hildreth

For further information, please contact Christy Callaghan, Ocean and Coastal Law Center Administrative Assistant, tel. 346-1563, e-mail: callaghn@uoregon.edu.

STATEMENT OF COMPLETION IN OCEAN AND COASTAL LAW

APPLICATION FORM

Name (as you want it to appear on your certificate):

Date: _____

I am hereby applying for an Ocean and Coastal Law Statement of Completion. I have completed both of the following courses:

Class	Semester Completed	Grade	Credits
Coastal Law	_____	_____	_____
Ocean Law	_____	_____	_____

and a combination of the following courses totaling at least nine hours of credit:

_____ Climate Change in International Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Climate Change Law and Policy	_____	_____	_____
_____ Comparative Environmental Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Energy and the Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Environment and Pollution	_____	_____	_____
_____ Environmental Conflict Resolution	_____	_____	_____
_____ Environmental Law Alliance Extern.	_____	_____	_____
_____ Environmental Law Clinic	_____	_____	_____
_____ Global Environmental Challenges	_____	_____	_____
_____ Hazardous Waste Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Human Rights and Environment	_____	_____	_____
_____ Indian Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ International Environmental Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ International Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Land Use Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Natural Resources Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Public Land Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Renewable Energy Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Water Resources Law	_____	_____	_____
_____ Wildlife Law	_____	_____	_____

Substitute courses approved by the Center director:

_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____

or: _____ I have served as a research assistant with the Ocean and Coastal Law Center for at least one academic year, and I have completed an academic research paper of high professional quality concerning an ocean or coastal law topic approved by the Center director.

or: _____ I have served as a marine law or policy fellow in a state or federal fellowship program for at least one semester.